

THE DREAM

By Lydia

It was on Saturday that I had dream that I was sitting in the shade of the tree and suddenly a big bird appears. "What do you like?" it said. Then I said I would like to fly in the sky. It took me with big wings and we flew very high. We passed across rivers and mountains.

"I want to go home now," I cried, but the bird was flying comfortably with me on him and took me higher and higher. Then we came to a tree, that was very beautiful. The bird was very tired and sat on a branch to rest. Then I started shouting that I wanted to leave and I was hungry. It put me down on the branch and went to bring fruits. As I was sitting, a snake appeared and then I woke up.
